

PARTNER NETWORK OVERVIEW

Connecting Verified Clients with Trusted Industry Partners

A professional referral and partner matching platform designed to connect serious clients with trusted specialists across the construction & infrastructure sector.

Welcome to Capital Line

Capital Line was created to simplify the connection between clients and industry professionals.

Many highly capable companies spend significant time and resources searching for new projects, while many clients struggle to identify the right company for their specific requirements. Our role is to bridge that gap.

We receive project inquiries, understand client requirements, evaluate project suitability, and connect clients with qualified partners who are best positioned to deliver the required service.

Rather than replacing industry professionals, Capital Line exists to help them focus on what they do best while we help facilitate valuable business opportunities.

The Problem

- Good companies spend time searching for clients.
- Clients often struggle to find the right service provider.
- Many inquiries are not serious or ready to proceed.
- Valuable time is wasted on unsuitable leads.

Our Solution

Capital Line filters, qualifies, and matches clients with suitable partners, creating more efficient connections for both parties.

What Capital Line Does

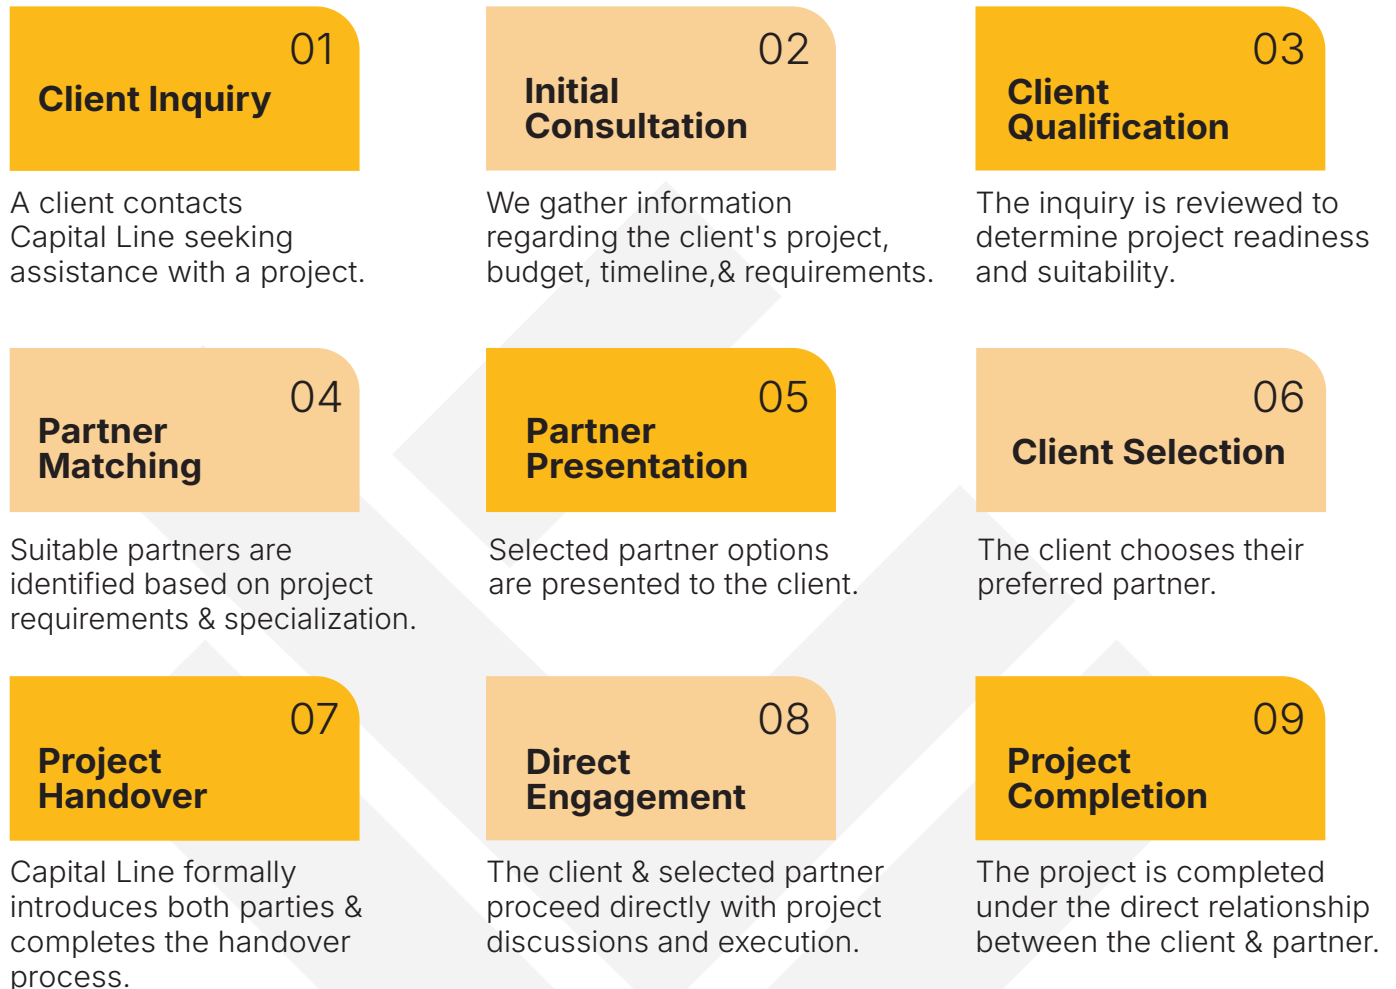

- Receives project inquiries from potential clients
- Understands project requirements and expectations
- Conducts an initial qualification process
- Identifies suitable partners based on project needs
- Introduces selected partners to qualified clients
- Maintains verified partner records
- Facilitates project handover documentation
- Supports a professional and transparent introduction process

What Capital Line Does Not Do

- Execute construction work
- Perform engineering supervision
- Manage project sites
- Issue technical approvals
- Control construction activities
- Replace professional consultants
- Act as the contractor for any project
- Take responsibility for execution carried out by partner companies

Following project handover, all technical execution, implementation, supervision, scheduling, and project delivery responsibilities remain solely with the selected partner and the client.

How Our System Works

Why We Qualify Clients

Our objective is to improve the quality of opportunities presented to our partners. Before introducing a client, we attempt to understand:

- The nature of the project
- The client's requirements
- Project location
- Expected timeline
- Budget expectations
- Level of project readiness
- Existing documentation, if available

During this process, we aim to reduce introductions involving:

- Unrealistic budgets
- Non-serious inquiries
- Information-only inquiries
- Window shoppers
- Unclear project requirements
- Projects that are not yet ready to proceed

While no qualification process can guarantee a successful outcome, Capital Line aims to reduce unnecessary sales conversations and introduce clients who have already completed an initial review process.

When a client selects a partner through Capital Line, a referral fee applies for the successful introduction.

Key Principles

- Referral fees are agreed upon before project handover.
- Fees are documented through the Project Handover Agreement.
- Referral fees may vary depending on project scope and value.
- Payment terms are clearly stated before engagement.

This system allows Capital Line to continue investing in client acquisition, qualification, & partner development while creating opportunities for participating partners.
